

BROTHER SISTER
DIRECTOR'S COMMENT

BROTHER SISTER is a film about freedom.
My childhood ended with the discovery of my brother's muscular disease.
Since that time the menace of death became part of my life.
How to live with someone who is leaving?
How did he live knowing he had to leave?
While I wanted 'everything'
he accepted his limited lifetime as a door to happiness.
How to keep the beloved ones present when they have left?
A film about physical and spiritual brother- and sisterhood and about relics in the age of digital reproduction...
